

International Trade Services

Bank South Pacific

Services to make your overseas business dealings easier and more efficient.

Bank South Pacific

"OUR BANK"

International Services for Business Customers.

At Bank South Pacific we understand the difficulties associated with overseas trade and can help your business in many ways.

The following services are available to our business customers:

International payments and receipts

Your Relationship Manager can discuss the various methods of international payments, explaining the advantages and risks associated with each.

Methods of payment include documentary letter of credit (sight or term), documentary collection (sight or term), telegraphic transfer, international draft and shipping on consignment.

Protection against fluctuating exchange rates

As an exporter or importer you deal in currency other than PNG Kina. Consequently there is a risk due to exchange rate fluctuations. Even a small movement in exchange rates can have a substantial effect on the amount of money you pay or receive.

To help you manage your exchange rate risk, Bank South Pacific offers exporters and importers the use of hedging instruments including foreign exchange contracts and foreign currency term deposits. Both instruments provide the advantage of a fixed exchange rate to coincide with the date of your payment or receipt of funds, giving you peace of mind.

Short term trade finance

Bank South Pacific's short term trade finance for exporters and importers is available for periods up to 180 days. Depending on your circumstances, we have the flexibility to provide finance in either PNG Kina or major foreign currencies. Short term trade finance can provide a stronger and more flexible cash flow for your business.

We are ready to help

Your Bank South Pacific relationship manager will discuss your business plans and needs and if required call in the service of our international business specialists. With our help you can develop strategies and access our international services to make your overseas business dealings easier and more efficient.
